MARCH MEETING MINUTES

The March 14th, 2005 meeting of the SVBC was held in the relatively quiet back room of Luigi’s 42S. There were seven members present. The Treasurer reported a balance of $6,152.43.

The Club voted to donate $50 to the PMC-Jimmy Fund (see the March 2005 newsletter) in support of Scott Ripley.

The Club will donate cycling related videos to the Harrisonburg Rockingham Regional Library. The library has agreed to catalog them for lending. If you have DVDs or videos related to cycling and wish to donate them in the SVBC’s name contact Rich Harris.

Many upcoming activities that need support from Club members were discussed and are listed below. Please consider helping with one or more or ALL of them.

The Tour of Shenandoah (http://www.tourofshenandoah.com/) is requesting help during the “Downtown Crit” on April 27th at 5:30pm. 14 course marshals are needed. If you have already volunteered, thanks, if not consider pitching in. The tour also needs a traveling corps of road marshals with room and board provided. For more information or to volunteer contact Marshall at 434-1609 or e-mail marshall_hammond@merck.com.

April 9th is the Black’s Run Clean-up, contact Julie Jenkins at juliejenkins@hotmail.com for details. Remember, Blacks Run will be part of the Greenway scheduled to have bike and pedestrian only lane(s) when completed.

The SVBC needs ride leaders for the Sunday “Wannabe” rides. These rides are moderate in pace and you get to meet cyclists who want to improve their skills or just want to feel more comfortable in groups. Rides leave Bridgewater on the 3rd Sunday of the month. Contact Scott Ripley to volunteer and for more information.

Trash Pick-up on the Club’s designated roadway (Amberly Road) will be April 16th. Meet at the intersection of Amberly Road and Skidmore Road at 9am. There will be a Club ride afterward, leaving from the Food Lion (Harmony Square) parking lot at 10:30. Contact Marcia or Neups for details.

OCP and the Shenandoah Valley Bike Festival still need route suggestions. Contact Neups, Marcia, or Marshall if you would like to help explore new Festival routes.

The SMBC is sponsoring numerous activities in April that will be loads of fun for all cyclists. See the events section of the newsletter or go to http://www.shenandoahmountainbikeclub.com/ for all the details.

As you can see by the list of upcoming events the Club is supporting, cycling in the Valley is strong. Help keep it that way by volunteering. Remember that volunteering for three activities gets a free year’s membership/renewal in the Club.

After fun, food, and beverage the meeting was adjourned.
The next meeting will be at 7:30pm in the back room of the Original Luigi’s. Please note the time change.

Respectfully submitted,
Marshall Hammond
Secretary SVBC

ADVOCACY

NATIONAL BIKE SUMMIT
The National Bike Summit convened in Washington, D.C. March 16-18, providing an opportunity for attendees to lobby for cycling at the federal level. A variety of issues were raised by advocates at the summit. The increasing incident of obesity and Type II diabetes in children, traffic congestion, air quality, affordable transportation for the working class, recreation, exercise, environmental concerns, access for people with disabilities as well as the elderly, safety, economic growth, and reduced dependence on oil were issues that advocates commonly referenced in their attempt to connect the importance of cycling to elected officials. Although lobbying was the central focus of the summit, we only spent one day meeting with our representatives. The other two days there were seminars on numerous bike advocacy efforts around the country. It was inspiring and educational to hear about how other communities have organized to further the cause of cycling. Harrisonburg cyclists were represented by Chris Scott as well as me. Anyone who is interested in more information, talk to me or visit any of the following bike advocacy web sites: www.bikeleague.org, www.bikesbelong.org, www.americabikes.org, or www.thunderheadalliance.org.

CANCER

Dear SVBC members,

On 6 August this year, I will be participating in the largest fund-raising bike ride for cancer research in America – the Pan-Massachusetts Challenge (PMC). I will be one of 4,000 riders who will roll across the state to raise money for the Jimmy Fund in support of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in Boston. The PMC has been in existence since 1980 and has raised more money than any other athletic event in the country. Ninety-seven percent of the money goes directly to the Jimmy Fund. This year’s goal is to raise $21 million. For more information about the PMC, go to www.pmc.org.

I want to be “a cog in the wheel of progress”, as Billy Starr, founder of the PMC says, so I am asking you to support me in this cause by donating money in my name. My goal is to raise $2,000 by August. Until then, I will be training for my 83 mile ride from Wellesley, MA to the Bourne Bridge over the Cape Cod Canal. This will be the longest ride I have ever attempted, but I have been inspired in many ways. My sister, Claudia, has completed the PMC for the past three years. Last year she dedicated her ride to me because I have been a cancer survivor since July 2004.

So, I take this challenge very seriously. All I need from you is a serious tax-deductible check made payable to “PMC-Jimmy Fund”, or you can go to the e-gift page at the PMC website (https://www.pmc.org/egifts/default.asp) and enter my e-gift ID SR0087 and make a credit card donation. I will even accept cash.

Thank you for your help. Live Strong,
Scott Ripley
448 Mt. Pisgah Rd.
Mt. Sidney, VA 24467

The Club will be supporting Scott’s efforts with a $50 donation.

TIDBITS

Last month, we mentioned that Rich Harris proposed the Club look into purchasing cycling and cycling related videos for use by Club members. Another suggestion was to donate these videos as well as safe cycling media to the Harrisonburg-Rockingham Regional Library for inclusion in their lending collection. Here’s what was found out.

The library liked the idea. They are willing to take any tapes or DVD's that we would be willing to give them. The library only buys DVD's due to space issues, but is willing to take tapes if they are donated. They requested any new items we purchase be only in the DVD format. Each DVD or tape we give them would get a sticker saying it was donated by the SVBC. If we made a commitment to an ongoing yearly donation of DVD's for the library, they would consider making a small commitment also. This would need more follow up with the library director and governing body. Once a DVD goes into the library system, it can be shelved at any of the library branches. Branches are in Harrisonburg, Rockingham, and Page counties. A patron of the system can see the catalog of all library DVD's from any branch. If the DVD is not at the branch they are in, it can be delivered there in a day or two. Lois also mentioned that the library could not be responsible for DVD thefts. Each year the library loses DVD's that are never returned.

Based on my conversation with Lois, I think the advantages of going with the library is that they take care of all the lending logistics, the Club gets a wider distribution of DVD's and we are seen as a good community member. The disadvantage is that we lose control of the DVD's and the DVD's would be more difficult for Club members to check out as they would be reserving them along with all of the other library patrons.

Feel free to give me a call at JMU today, 568-3463, if you have any questions or need more information. I am willing to follow up on this in whichever direction the Club would like to go.

Rich Harris,
RIDE OF SILENCE

On May 18, the Ride of Silence will roll across the country, starting at 7pm. In approximately 75 cities in the US, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, Germany, and Belgium, cyclists will take to the roads in a slow (no more than 12 mph), silent procession to honor fellow cyclists who have been killed or injured while riding on public roadways. Although cyclists have a legal right to share the road with motorists, the motoring public often isn't aware of these rights, and sometimes not aware of the cyclists themselves. Visit the official site for the Ride of Silence in your area. The ride is held annually on the third Wednesday of May, during National Bike Month.

The Ride of Silence will be held in Boca Raton, Fl in conjunction with the rides across the U.S. and around the world. This event is a free ride – no registration fee, no t-shirt, no aid stations; food and beverages will not be served, however, as the organization is a nonprofit charity, donations will be accepted, the proceeds of which will be used to assist the families of deceased and injured bicyclists who are in need of financial support. For the route and additional information, please visit the Ride of Silence site.

FROM YOUR DOOR

from The Bicycle Paper Winter 2001  www.bicyclepaper.com

“Oh no” he said, and asked me if I had. “I did ride El Tour”, I said. He looked at me and said: “You must be a real enthusiast.”  Hey, I LOOKED like an enthusiast. I had on a yellow-and-orange Giro helmet, a thermal jacket from a club in Austin, Texas with lightning bolts and sponsor names all over it. High-budget yellow-and-red cycling shoes, black tights and red Elita team gloves.  I rode a gleaming racing bicycle, blue with white decals and a matching saddle.  None of that impressed him. He decided, on the basis of my El Tour ride, that I was “a real enthusiast.”  What do you suppose he meant by that? There he was, going the same speed as I was in the Mountain Avenue bike lane. Did he mean that I was an enthusiast as opposed to a back-and-forth cycle commuter, a veteran of the car wars?  I guess I am a real enthusiast, but I’m no more committed than that guy on the unpainted recumbent.
Hey, he rides every day. I’ll bet he rides on rainy days when the nearest I get to cycling is surfing cycling web sites.
Evidently, the guy on the rusty recumbent does not think of himself as an enthusiast. He may feel he’s a utility cyclist, a commuter, not a cycling sportsman.  But he did not judge me to be an enthusiast on the basis of my clothing or equipment, about which he may have known nothing. He didn’t decide I was an enthusiast on the basis of what I OWNED, but because of something I’d DONE. And he’s right. It’s not about what we ride or wear.  It’s about what we DO. We’re cyclists because we ride. The guy who owns the most expensive gear is not the most authentic cyclist. The guy who bought the trick Italian bike with the team-issue pieces bolted on it is not the most authentic cyclist. The guy with the Subaru Forester with the three-rail Thule rack with a Kestrel clipped in it is not the most authentic cyclist. The guy who bought the mint late-70s Masi on E-Bay is not the most authentic cyclist.  The guy riding his rusty homemade recumbent is dead authentic, for sure. He’s the cyclist. Bicycle ownership is nothing.
Bicycle use is everything. Riding is everything. And the riding that matters is riding INSTEAD of driving.  The people behind the 2001 El Tour are urging us to ride our bikes to the event and to ride home afterward. I’d like to urge you to make pedaling your bike to and from your rides a habit. Ride from your door.  Too many of us load our bikes into or onto cars and drive them two miles to the starts of rides. Road cyclists in the old days, in the ’70s and ’80s, resisted that. Many couldn’t afford cars or didn’t want them. They believed that “Cars Suck” as the T-shirt says. It wasn’t cool back then to roll up to ride starts in a car. It shouldn’t be cool today. There’s nothing cool about driving a car. Everyone does it. Driving a car doesn’t set you apart. Guys who move their mouths when they read and want to show you who owns the road drive cars. Takes no brains, no class. Slobs who can’t climb a flight of stairs drive cars. It’s easy. Preoccupied, careless people who’d never survive a mile-long bike ride drive cars; they’re safe in there with air bags and shoulder belts. We, on the other hand, ride bikes. Riding bikes is good for us. Driving cars is not. Riding bikes does no harm. Driving cars does major harm. Short trips wear cars out; Bikes don’t care how long the ride is. I’ll bet you’d like to think of yourself, your way of life, as an example “tooters”. I’ll bet you’d like to believe that the world would be a better place if everyone did what you do. You do feel that way, don’t you, especially about your cycling? I thought so. Leave your car in the driveway. Ride your bike.
