UPCOMING MEETINGS

Meetings are in Luigi’s (Original Rt. 42 location) back room. If closed, we’ll meet at El Charro on S. Main St.

July 11 7:30pm Monthly meeting, INCLUDING the Festival and Century.

JUNE MEETING MINUTES

The June 13th 2005 meeting of the SVBC was held in back room of Luigi's 42S. There were five members present as well as Jonathon from OCP. The Treasurer reported a balance of $6,116.23.

The Shenandoah Valley Bike Festival sponsored by Our Community Place was the main topic of discussion. Marking of the Festival routes will require black paint to obscure existing markings as well as white for the 2005 routes. The Club is responsible for marking all routes. Volunteers can contact Marcia for maps and paint. Marking can begin anytime in July. Club members wishing to volunteer to help with the Festival can call Jonathan or Melanie at OCP. A road watch will be needed at the intersection of Main and E. Johnson to alert cyclists turning across Main Street into the OCP area. Club member Ben Wyse is organizing a "Family Friendly Critical Mass Ride" as a conclusion to the Festival. Everyone is encouraged to come to the Festival to ride, participate in the community celebration and enjoy a day of friends. Please support OCP in this event.

A Club sponsored ride up Thunder Ridge on Sunday June 5th saw two riders taking a high speed fall, resulting in much road rash and a broken collar bone. However severe the rash and broken bone were, both cyclists were wearing helmets and were able to walk, albeit gingerly, away from the crash. This gave everyone witnessing the accident reason to pause and reflect on the necessity of ALWAYS wearing a helmet regardless of the distance, experience of the cyclist, or riding conditions.

A SVBC Century meeting is upcoming and will be announced shortly. It is not too early to begin thinking about volunteering for this Club event and planning on supporting the ride on September 11th.

In news from the SMBC the Tour de Burg is taking place from July 1st through 6th. There are road stages and mountain bike stages in this six-day event. For more information contact Mike Carpenter at carpenmc@jmu.edu. July 16th will be the 9hr 99 min. of Mud Pond, a membership drive for the mountain bike club. Go to the club's web site for more details http://www.shenandoahmountainbikeclub.com/.

The next meeting will be July 11th at 7:30.

Respectfully submitted,
Marshall Hammond
Secretary SVBC

The Crash on Thunder Ridge: A Bicycle Helmet Success Story

By Rich Harris

On June 5, 2005 fourteen people participated in the annual “Thunder Ridge Road Ride” that I lead in Bedford County between Lynchburg and Bedford, VA. We started the day with a clear blue sky and cool temperatures. Ideal conditions for the 12-mile climb with 3,500’ of elevation gain up Thunder Ridge along the Blue Ridge Parkway. Everyone made it to the top and began the long descent down to the Peaks of Otter Lodge for our first food stop.

Our enjoyment turned to horror when two riders bumped each other and crashed to the pavement at over 40 miles per hour on the descent. Both riders received multiple abrasions and one had a broken collar bone. Fortunately the crash occurred less that one-quarter mile from the lodge, so park rangers responded quickly and an ambulance was called to take both riders to the hospital in Bedford. After a long delay the remainder of the group completed the ride.

Both victims were experienced riders and have ridden descents much steeper than Thunder Ridge. The crash itself was truly an accident. As scary as this crash was, it could have been much worse. Both riders’ heads hit the pavement in this high-speed crash. Had they not been wearing helmets their injuries would have been much more severe, if not fatal. Their helmets did their jobs as there were no head injuries at all in this crash. I write this article as a success story for bicycle helmets and a vivid example of how they can prevent injuries and save lives. This is the reason that the Shenandoah Valley Bicycle Club REQUIRES helmets on all rides and encourages everyone to wear a helmet on ALL rides. Just like the Thunder Ridge ride, you never know when an accident may occur. While we cannot prevent bicycle accidents, we can reduce the type and severity of injuries that occur by wearing helmets on all rides. Please share this story with others bicyclists. Hopefully it can prevent other serious injuries from occurring in the future.

Both riders are recovering well.

CANCER

Dear SVBC members,

On 6 August this year, I will be participating in the largest fund-raising bike ride for cancer research in America – the Pan-Massachusetts Challenge (PMC). I will be one of 4,000 riders who will roll across the state to raise money for the Jimmy Fund in support of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in Boston. The PMC has been in existence since 1980 and has raised more money than any other athletic event in the country. Ninety-seven percent of the money goes directly to the Jimmy Fund. This year’s goal is to raise $21 million. For more information about the PMC, go to www.pmc.org.

I want to be “a cog in the wheel of progress”, as Billy Starr, founder of the PMC says, so I am asking you to support me in this cause by donating money in my name. My goal is to raise $2,000 by August. Until then, I will be training for my 83 mile ride from Wellesley, MA to the Bourne Bridge over the Cape Cod Canal. This will be the longest ride I have ever attempted, but I have been inspired in many ways. My sister, Claudia, has completed the PMC for the past three years. Last year she dedicated her ride to me because I have been a cancer survivor since July 2004.

So, I take this challenge very seriously. All I need from you is a serious tax-deductible check made payable to “PMC-Jimmy Fund”, or you can go to the e-gift page at the PMC website (https://www.pmc.org/egifts/default.asp) and enter my e-gift ID SR0087 and make a credit card donation. I will even accept cash.

Thank you for your help. Live Strong,
Scott Ripley, 448 Mt. Pisgah Rd., Mt. Sidney, VA 24467

The Club will be supporting Scott’s efforts with a $50 donation.

Knee Pain and Bicycling

Taken from an article by Diane Haupt, MS, PT written for the Tidewater Bicycle Association’s newsletter, The Spokin Word.

Knee pain is one of the most common complaints among cyclists with the majority of cases caused by overuse due to the repetitive nature of the sport. During one hour of cycling, a rider may average over 5,000 pedal revolutions. Multiply that by a 3-4 hour ride and you can see how the smallest misalignment, whether anatomic or equipment related, repeated over 20,000 times may lead to an injury. Causes of knee pain in cycling may include improper bike fit and/or training distance and intensity, anatomical factors such as leg length discrepancy, muscle imbalance such as strong quads and weak hamstrings and inflexibility such as tight hamstrings. Determining the cause of the problem and correcting it is paramount to preventing further pain.

Anatomical Causes of Knee Pain

A leg length discrepancy may lead to IT band problems and lateral knee pain on the shorter leg and/or posterior knee pain. Overpronation at the foot may lead to medial knee pain. Muscle weakness of the quads, glutes, hamstrings, or hip flexors lead to alterations in pedaling technique and efficiency which stresses other parts of the body to make up for the weakness and leads to overuse injuries. For example, a weak quadricep muscle may lead to anterior knee pain secondary to poor tracking of the patella with each pedal revolution. Lastly, inflexibility may lead to knee pain. An example would be tightness in the IT band causing lateral knee pain.

Improper Bike Fit Causes of Knee Pain

A saddle that is too high will cause excessive knee extension and rocking of the hips which stresses the hamstrings (causing posterior knee pain) and IT band (causing lateral knee pain). A saddle that is too low stresses the quadriceps tendon and patella, causing anterior knee pain. A saddle that is too far forward leads to a hyperflexed position and stresses the anterior joint, causing anterior knee pain. A saddle that is too far back causes stress to the hamstrings and IT band from excessive forward reach for the pedal and leads to posterior and lateral knee pain. Crank arms that are too long lead to increased forces on the entire knee and anterior knee pain. Internally rotated cleats lead to tibial rotation stress on the anterior knee while externally rotated cleats lead to medial knee pain.

Training Errors leading to Knee Pain

Rapid increase in training distance or intensity may lead to muscle tightness and microtrauma. Without proper recovery, microtrauma stimulates an inflammatory response that leads to the damage of local tissue. With cumulative microtrauma as seen in overtraining, degenerative changes begin to occur that lead to weakness, loss of flexibility and chronic pain. Excessive hill work or pushing large gears may also lead to cartilaginous breakdown and knee joint pain.

Treatment Consideration

Initial management of knee pain includes rest, ice compression, elevation, and medication to help control inflammation and allow the tissue to heal. Correcting the cause of the pain is the next step in the rehabilitation process. This may include the assistance of a qualified bike fit specialist to correct improper bike fit leading to knee pain and/or a medical professional to do a detailed biomechanical analysis screening of strength and flexibility to determine the appropriate plan of care.

Summary

Knee pain is the most common overuse problem in cyclists but is very preventable. When evaluating knee pain and cycling related overuse injuries, important considerations include bicycle fit, training distance and intensity, and anatomical factors such as muscle imbalance and inflexibility. Riding with knee pain shouldn’t be a daily occurrence. Seek professional guidance if needed to get to the root of the problem and get back to pain free riding!
